CALL FOR STUDENT POSTERS

Due 10/9/2016

The 1st International Symposium for Academic Makerspaces is now accepting student poster submissions. If you've created something - in class or as a hobby - and want to share it, we want to hear from you. We're looking for cool stuff made by enthusiastic and passionate student makers. Accepted poster presenters will be given space to display hardware. Show your passion for making - submit a poster today!

Submission guidelines:

- To submit, please send a 500 word abstract or summary to isam2016@mit.edu. Be sure to include your main idea/s and relevant images. Not to exceed one page.

Other Details:

- $500 Cash Prizes will be awarded to the best posters.
- Travel stipends are available for qualifying students. Apply at project-manus.mit.edu/isam-2016-support.

ISAM joins the people, knowledge and inspiration that help create Higher Ed makerspaces to maximize impact on the student learning experience and alumni success.
